

CAN BUILD HER BIG FENCE.

Mrs. Groh Wins the Suit Brought by Banker Wolff.

Lawyer J. G. Plummer, a brother of the Police Magistrate, in the Supreme Court today, said that Banker Abram Wolff, of 47 West Ninety-first street, could not stick his nose out of the bay window on one side of his house without trespassing on the property of Mrs. Julia Groh. The banker's bay window overlooks Mrs. Groh's yard, and is within three inches of a line dividing the properties.

"The Court can appoint a commission to find out if Banker Wolff's nose isn't three inches long," said Mr. Plummer. The proceeding before the court was an application to make permanent a temporary injunction obtained by Mr. Wolff restraining Mrs. Groh from erecting an iron fence twenty-five feet high and twenty-eight feet long between her yard and a recently constructed extension to Mr. Wolff's house.

Julius Frank, counsel for Mr. Wolff, said when the property was purchased there was a ten-foot fence between them. Mr. Wolff erected an extension, and Mrs. Groh, actuated by spite, obtained a permit to put up her iron fence. She proposed to paint the fence black on the Wolff side to further darken the rooms in the extension.

Mrs. Groh's counsel said his client offered to buy Mr. Wolff's property at an advance of $3,000, when she learned he intended to build the extension. Judge Barrett said there was no law prohibiting the building of such a structure as proposed by Mrs. Groh, as the law applied only to wooden fences, which shall not be over ten feet high. The injunction was denied.

MYSTERY OF A CAB.

Horan Lost His Own and Drove Away with Another.

George H. Griffiths, superintendent of the Westcott Express Company, was complainant in the Harlem Court this morning against John Horan, of 49 East Seventy-sixth street, charging him with the larceny of a horse and cab valued at $200.

The express company keeps a number of cabs in front of the Grand Central station. Last night an unknown man jumped on the seat of one of the cabs and drove away. A general alarm was at once sent out by the company.

At 3:30 o'clock this morning Policeman Dixon, of the East One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street station, arrested Horan on one Hundred and Twenty-fifth street for driving a cab while in an intoxicated condition.

When taken to the station-house the cab was discovered that the cab was the missing vehicle. Horan said he was a cabman, and had a stand at the Grand Central Depot; that he thought the cab was his own.

The prisoner was paroled until this afternoon for examination. Horan's horse and cab are missing.
